45

38

63

ON THE COVER:

"Thunder on Little Kennesaw"

by Don Troiani

PREMIERE ISSUE • NOVEMBER 1997

NORTH & SOUTH

14 COULD THE CONFEDERACY HAVE WON?
North & South interviews Shelby Foote—who has some surprising views.

24 IN DEFENSE OF FIGHTING JOE HOOKER
He was not a drunk and never lost his nerve in battle.
by Stephen Sears

38 LAFAYETTE McLAWS ON GETTYSBURG
Recently discovered manuscript.

42 THE CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER LINE: AN AMERICAN MAGINOT
Confederate General Francis A. Shoup — were his ingenious fortification designs years ahead of their time or a white elephant?
by William Scaife

63 THE MAN WHO TAUGHT THE ARMY HOW TO FIGHT
Ulysses S. Grant —the remarkable general whose approach to warfare underlies the U.S. Army's doctrines to this day.
by Geoffrey Perret

80 SOME CAME HOME: THE STORY OF THE 2ND ILLINOIS CAVALRY
One of the finest U.S. Cavalry regiments has never had a historian—until now.

91 THE MANY STORIES OF THE STONEWALL JACKSON MEDAL
Commissioned, locked away, forgotten, lost and then found … on the trail of a mystery medal. by Frank Wheeler and Peter Bertram

DEPARTMENTS

5 Editorial
by Keith Poulter

6 Crossfire
Letters to the Editor

8 Al Nofi's Knapsack

10 Black Rebels: Men of Color in the Confederate Army

37 Do You Know?
Prizes!

N&S Center Fold

47 The Chattahoochee River Line Map

48 Federal Order-of-Battle

50 Confederate Order-of-Battle

60 Briefings
Book Reviews

96 Classified Ads

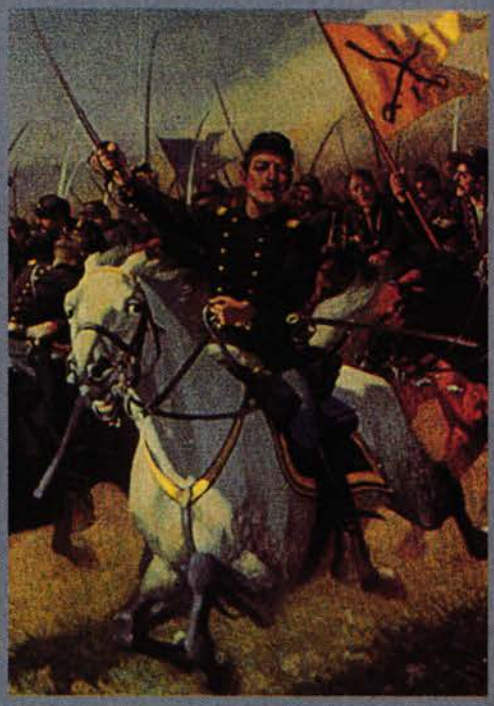
ISSUE #2 • JANUARY 1998

NORTH & SOUTH



68

56

18

Features:

18 DECISION IN THE WEST—PART ONE: THE ENTERING WEDGE

Drowned swampland blocked the approaches to Vicksburg. A column of a thousand men were dispatched down the Mississippi to find a way out of the impasse .....
Keith Poulter

28 A FIGHT OR A FOOTRACE?

The Tullahoma Campaign is usually regarded as something of a masterpiece. But was it?
Ron Furqueron

40 TURNING POINT: THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR

Pride of the Atlanta Historical Society's exhibit is the 5,000 piece DuBose Collection.

42 THE GREAT CAVALRY RAID

William Tecumseh Sherman had little faith in his cavalry. The results of the Great Cavalry Raid confirmed his worst fears.
William B. Scaife

56 WHAT REALLY HAPPENED ON THE NUECES RIVER?

Tradition would have you believe that Confederate Colonel James Duff massacred large numbers of loyal Germans. New research suggests otherwise.
Richard Selcer and Paul Burrier

68 HE DON'T CARE A DAMN FOR WHAT THE ENEMY DOES OUT OF HIS SIGHT

A perspective on U.S. Grant and Military Intelligence.
William B. Feis

Departments:

6 Editorial
8 Crossfire
8 Do You Know? Prizes!
10 Al Nofi's Knapsack
48 N&S Center Fold
91 Briefings
96 Classified Ads

Cover Story: Page 16

14 Command Decision: Colonel Sharpe's Critical Role at Gettysburg

30 The Day After: Braxton Bragg and the Aftermath of Chickamauga

ISSUE #3 • FEBRUARY 1998

NORTH & SOUTH

Features:

14 DECISION AT GETTYSBURG

A little known colonel gave Major General George G. Meade solid grounds for his decision to stay and fight for a third day at Gettysburg. Grounds which doomed Pickett's charge even before it began. Edwin C. Fishel

30 THE DAY AFTER

Historians have generally condemned Confederate General Braxton Bragg for failing to follow up his victory at Chickamauga. But is this fair? Richard L. DiNardo and James R. Furqueron

44 THE SOUTH ALMOST WON BY NOT LOSING: A REBUTTAL

The capture of Atlanta is widely regarded as a turning point in the war, ensuring Lincoln's reelection and the defeat of the Confederacy. But did it in fact make any difference? Larry J. Daniel

52 THE BATTLE OF LEXINGTON

By attempting too much with too little the Federal high command set itself up for disaster. And the Confederates found a novel way to exploit their enemy's weak position. Jeff Patrick

68 DECISION IN THE WEST

The Vicksburg Campaign Part II: Running the Batteries

Before the Army of the Tennessee could come to grips with the enemy, the navy had to brave the batteries at Vicksburg, and a suitable place had to be found for a landing. Keith Poulter

76 APPOINTMENT IN SAMARA

Confederate agent Wat Bowie bore a charmed life, until he decided to rob a Quaker store . . . . . James O. Hall

82 ROBERT E. LEE AND THE COMMAND CRISIS OF 1863-1864

More than a proven combat record went into Lee's decisions as to who should be appointed to corps command. Richard L. DiNardo

Departments:

8 Editorial

9 Crossfire
Letters and Responses

10 Al Nofi's Knapsack
Profile: Snowball Fights

41 Briefings

81 Do You Know?

90 Cover Story
Retreat by Recoil

96 Classified Ads

Seargent W. H. Carney, Co. C, 54th Mass. Vol.. Ft. Wagner Medal of Honor (page 10)

"The Battle of Gaines' Mill" (page 58)

ISSUE #4 • APRIL 1998

NORTH & SOUTH

Features:

14 A CERTAIN BULLHEADEDNESS

In the opinion of Lafayette McLaws, ranking major general in the Army of Northern Virginia, General Longstreet had "nothing to recommend him as a commander but the possession of a certain bullheadedness." W. Todd Groce

24 BATTLE OF THE RAMS

Bridge builder Charles Ellet Jr. told Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton that his unarmed rams would "either control the Mississippi or be sunk in the attempt." On a June morning at Memphis his words would be put to the test. Chester G. Hearn

33 BUILDING A CIVIL WAR LIBRARY

Picking and choosing from an explosively growing volume of literature requires careful analysis. David J. Eicher

34 FREEDOM BEGAN HERE

The Christiana Riot of September 1851 was a milestone in the growing conflict between the sections. Edward Steers Jr.

44 STORY OF A POEM

Margaret Mitchell used two short stanzas from a poem in Gone with the Wind. Few people know the full history of that poem. Mel Young

46 THE DEFENSE OF BATTERY WAGNER

The movie Glory told the story of the 54th Massachusetts and its gallant attack upon Fort Wagner. Here is an account from the defenders' viewpoint, written by a Confederate staff officer who was there. Hon. Lieut. Col. T. D. D. Twiggs

58 PICKETT BEFORE GETTYSBURG

George Pickett's name is synonymous today with the most famous failed frontal assault in history. But just who was Pickett, and how did he find himself cast to play a lead role in the epic that was Gettysburg? Lesley J. Gordon

76 DECISION IN THE WEST, PART III: FIVE BATTLES IN EIGHTEEN DAYS

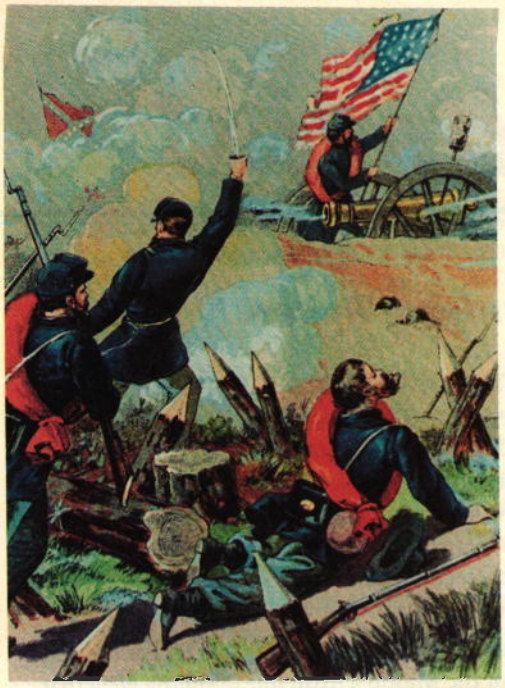
Outnumbered and in the midst of enemy territory, the Army of the Tennessee won five victories, defeating the enemy in detail. Keith Poulter

Departments:

6 Editorial
7 Crossfire
8 Featured Museum
10 Knapsack
by Albert A. Nofi
88 Briefings
23 Do You Know?
95 Cover Story
96 Classified Ads

VOLUME 1 • ISSUE #5

NORTH & SOUTH



"The Siege of Vicksburg"
(page 74)

"Battle at Five Forks"
(page 56)

FEATURES:

16 THE MYTH OF THE RIFLE REVOLUTION IN THE CIVIL WAR

Terrain and the nature of the armies caused the distinctive features of the Civil War battlefield—not changes in weapons technology. Paddy Griffith

22 NO MYTH! THE RIFLE REVOLUTION

Not so! The rifled musket caused a tactical revolution, that transformed the battlefield.
Grady McWhiney and Perry Jamieson

32 GLORY TO GOD! WE ARE SAVED!

On the evening of July 2nd, two brigades of Confederates hurled themselves at the Union batteries manning East Cemetery Hill. What followed was one of the bloodiest parts of the Battle of Gettysburg. Peter Tomasak

46 PAROLE OF HONOR

The President of the United States and a U.S. Senator intervened to allow a Confederate prisoner of war to visit his dying father. Mel Young

48 "A MOST MISERABLE HOLE"

So said a prisoner of Camp Ford, Texas. In fact, however, the regime was relatively mild. Karen Gerhardt

56 GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE WARREN AND LITTLE PHIL

Was Major General Philip H. Sheridan justified in removing General Warren from command of the Army of the Potomac's V Corps, at Five Forks, Virginia, just days before the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia? Stephen Sears

74 DECISION IN THE WEST, PART IV: THE SIEGE

The Battle of Big Black River. Al W. Goodman, Jr.
Vicksburg: The Climax. Noah Andre Trudeau

DEPARTMENTS:

6 Editorial
7 Crossfire
10 Knapsack
by Albert A. Nofi
31 Briefings
13 Do You Know?
94 Cover Story
96 Classified Ads

VOLUME 1 • ISSUE #6

NORTH & SOUTH

William Storke Jett
(See: Who Ordered Lincoln's Death)

"It Went Against Us"
(The Battle of Mine Creek)

FEATURES:

16 WHO ORDERED LINCOLN'S DEATH?
John Wilkes Booth was far from being a lone assassin, and his plot was only one of several aimed at the Union President. James E.T. Lange and Katherine DeWitt, Jr.

34 LEE'S INVASION STRATEGY
In moving north in June 1863, Lee had multiple objectives—but what was his overriding objective? Charles P. Roland

39 THE STEPHENS "PEACE" MISSION
In Jefferson Davis' plan, Lee's military success would be complemented by a diplomatic offensive on the part of Vice President Alexander H. Stephens. Thomas E. Schott

42 LEE'S GALLANT 6000?
Just how many men attempted the impossible under Major General George E. Pickett, on the climactic third day of the Battle of Gettysburg? John Michael Priest

57 "I'LL BE DAMNED IF I'LL EVER SURRENDER"
When Brigadier General Edward Moody McCook ran out of fight, an obscure colonel saved the day. Paul D. Haynie

66 ENGLAND'S GIFT TO THE CONFEDERACY
Brigadier General Collett Leventhorpe was "most truly a knight; deferential, without being obsequious, to all, both high and low." He was also quite a soldier. Michael C. Hardy

74 CHAOS ITSELF: THE BATTLE OF MINE CREEK
A dramatic cavalry charge against great odds heralded defeat for the enemy. Kip Lindberg

94 THE SONS OF ABRAHAM
Like so many others, the Jonas family was divided by the Civil War. Mel Young

DEPARTMENTS:

6 Editorial
7 Crossfire
12 Knapsack
by Albert A. Nofi
10 Do You Know?
71 Briefings
92 Cover Story
96 Classified Ads

VOLUME 1 • ISSUE #7

NORTH & SOUTH

Letter From Home, page 46
Library of Congress

Guerrilla Warfare, page 12
A portion of the "Mosby Planning a Raid" painting by Beaucé. Museum of the Confederacy

FEATURES:

12 WITHOUT MERCY, AND WITHOUT THE BLESSING OF GOD
Could guerrilla warfare have been the key to Confederate victory? Daniel E. Sutherland

22 "A GRIM WARNING TO OTHERS OF THEIR KIND..."
The Cumberland Ford Tragedy. James M. Prichard

29 THE BATTLE OF BISLAND
Nathaniel Banks planned a brilliant amphibious coup. But things didn't work out that way.
Lawrence Lee Hewitt and R. Christopher Goodwin

46 "LET ME EDGE IN TO YOUR BRIGHT FIRE"
We cannot fully understand the men in blue or gray unless we realize how important their families were to them. James Marten

57 DEVIL'S DEN: DEATH OF A SHARPSHOOTER
Is the most famous photograh of the Civil War genuine after all? James C. Groves

70 THE GOVERNMENT GIVES, AND THE CAPTAIN TAKES AWAY
Pay and discipline in Mr. Lincoln's Navy.
Dennis J. Pringle

82 THE ADVENTURES OF PRIVATE JOHN HOLMAN
A drop too much .... Thomas P. Lowry, M.D.

DEPARTMENTS:

4 Editorial
5 Crossfire
8 Knapsack
27 Do You Know?
26 N&S Back Issues
84 Briefings
95 Cover Story
96 Classified Ads